EMBODYING TRUE NATURE Consciousness Transformation Retreat

August 10, 2015 - September 11, 2015

Join us at our new enchanted land where the Andes and the Amazon meet for a hero's journey into the infinite human potential. Together we will transcend the layers of our individual and collective conditioning in order to know and trust our eternally brilliant and indestructible true nature. In this process we immerse into the magnificent realm of Mother Nature through the native foundational practices of remembrance, indigenous initiation rites and sacred plant ceremonies while establishing intercultural bridges of seeing the emergence of awakened consciousness in all beings everywhere. Our purpose is to create a space where all participants, including ourselves, can continually discover and implement ways for a life of greatest purpose, joyful fulfillment and deepest meaning.

Ancestral cultures are powerful reminders of the human capacity to transcend personal conditioning and limitations. The ego is helped to step beyond its comfort zones and the illusory sense of control. The spiritual practice was specifically designed by the ancestors to transform the ego from a capricious master into a humble servant of the inherent true nature in all of us. Instead of distorting the natural quality of the human organism to individual quirks of likes and dislikes, the ego is humbled enough to begin expressing the inherent universal qualities of our organism and begins serving the divine intelligence that has created that very organism.

This retreat brings about a profound consciousness transformation and involves a serious self-realization process. The process includes physical, mental, spiritual and emotional re-configuration. In the wilderness we immerse into the intuitive universal structure of the nature of existence through the inner, direct and non-conceptual experience mirrored by indigenous ancestral wisdom.

In the following pages we will cover many FAQs and important info regarding preparation. Please take the time to read through all the information carefully.

Tools

Transformation is facilitated by medicine men and women as well as healers and guides who serve as intercultural bridges of the timeless planetary wisdom of humanity. All practices will be relating to the process of unraveling the infinite potential of innate enlightened essence while healing our whole existence for the benefit of all beings.

Indigenous sacred ceremonies of Ayahuasca and San Pedro will take place every few days for unraveling the divine intelligence of nature in one's being, for healing and spiritual insight. The schedule will depend on the individual process of each participant. The days around the ceremonies will be dedicated towards creating a deeper understanding of Mother Nature's language with the help of different modalities such as:

- Remembering foundation* (release of personal history) – an energetic remembering, dissolution of subconscious limitation and letting go of emotional tensions held in one's past.
- Primordial breathwork foundation – Amazonian tribal activation of cellular memory and a Tibetan modality based on the Heart Drops of Dharmakaya practices that bring about a cathartic release of deeply seated emotional obscurations.
- Individual and collective transpersonal dreamwork foundation – working with the Ashuar shamanic and Jungian transpersonal approach towards recognizing the universal, associative and symbolic communication of human sub-consciousness relating to the spiritual evolution of one's being.
- Symptomatic dance foundation – Communication with the symptomatic language of the organism for the recognition and resolution of the origin of dis-ease.
- Sacred geometry foundation – Allows us to deepen our archetypal relationship with Nature and the universal flow of energy.
- Individual plant medicine diets – The participants will be given specific medicinal plants that help to cultivate essential natural qualities.
- Sharing circles – Relating to the universal process of consciousness transformation expressing itself uniquely through each participant.
- Qigong, yoga, and eastern meditation practices – Activating deeper vitality and a realignment of energetic channels of the organism.
- Traditional Chinese Medicine – Complementary support for the deeper realignment of energetic meridians and healing on all levels.
- Permaculture introduction – Balancing inner and outer landscapes by connecting to nature through meditative gardening and introduction to Permaculture principles.
- Processing, reflecting and integrating – getting to know one's self through the process of solitary meditation in nature.

The development of the retreat is specifically intended for the participants to face and challenge themselves in the most direct and harmonious way as observed in many ancient cultures and indigenous spiritual traditions around the world. This approach helps to become a human being in a human body while recognizing and letting go of stale concepts, habitual patterns, repressed emotions, inhibitions, fears, traumas and all other energetic limitations on the way to becoming a totally free luminous being overflowing with universal love and compassion.

The primary facilitator of this retreat will be Roman Hanis with support from Cynthia Robinson.

Preparing Yourself Physically

This is one of the first Embody True Nature retreats on our new mountain land. The land is quite magically enchanted and also wild. During this retreat we will have minimal infrastructure in place and if you decide to attend, get ready to be comfortable with very simple and rustic accommodations. Even with the minimal infrastructure we already have in place the temple / communal house and the weather in this high mountain forest sub-tropical region is really much more benevolent than in our previous center at the lower Amazon basin. Here there are minimal bugs (compared to the old center), much less humidity and heat so tents are actually quite comfortable to be in.

All participants will be staying in personal tents for the full month which you will bring for yourself and showers are taken in the nearby creek which is cold and refreshing. During some times there are biting gnats that come out on hot sunny day which can be greatly reduced by wearing appropriate clothing (lightweight long pants, long sleeves and scarf). We ask that anyone signing up for this retreat be prepared to face new and unexpected challenges and we are specifically seeking participants at this time who are inspired to approach these situations with a positive solutions-based attitude. All of these factors can be a powerful aid in depending the transformation process however it is up to each participant to embrace.

It is also important to be aware that participants will have to hike into and out of the land which takes 2+ hour one-way. The hike is steep and you may need to carry your own pack on your back, so be prepared to be challenged. We recommend getting a good pair of hiking boots and BREAKING THEM IN before you come.

Given the current circumstances we can only accept participants who are in stable and good health.

Preparing Yourself Mentally & Emotionally

The retreat is a serious process that is potentially life-changing, profoundly transformative and awakening on many levels. In order to get the most benefit from the retreat it is essential to prepare for it beforehand in terms of intention setting and beginning to develop a practice of presence and the ability to work with different life afflictions as well as disturbing emotions without being dominated by these phenomena.

Some examples of practices that can be very supportive and helpful to prepare beforehand include mindfulness, Vipassana and ZaZen meditations, non-violent communication, Native American sweat lodges and tipi ceremonies, Tibetan Vajrayana introduction practices, Yoga, pranayama breathwork, Qigong, and deeper immersion in a natural setting. These practices can help in terms of greater grounding, inner harmony and well-being, emotional stability, openness, receptivity and activation of creative potential. With greater degree of presence and self-realization and a more developed intention of further growth and awakening the Embody True Nature retreat will prove to be more profound and skillful, amplifying the connection with the inherent true nature in all of us that is beaconing the infinite luminous potential for the benefit of all beings.

Indigenous Ceremony Overview

As an integral part of the transformation process participants will partake in ancient Amazonian indigenous ceremonies of Ayahuasca and traditional Andean ceremonies of San Pedro and Coca. Transformation may be supported by Amazonian, Quechua and Qéro healers at different stages of this retreat, as well as healers and guides who serve as intercultural bridges of the timeless planetary wisdom of humanity.

These healing traditions we work with are uninterrupted and live transmission lineages going back to times immemorial and carrying illuminated reminders from the period of humanity when the ancestors were fully immersed in the primordial enlightened essence of divine intelligence. Plants are teachers and the spirit of these plants can support us in connecting to deep subtle energies of our body and the interwoven reality surrounding us.

The ceremonies associated with many sacred plants have been known to reconnect people with Mother Nature, heal from ailments and clear confusions, doubts and obscurations of consciousness for many millennia. We encourage our participants to connect with Nature from the inside out and this is a very beneficial way to tap into the source of life in the universe as we know it.

We caution participants against reading too much online about these practices as we have found there is a lot of misunderstanding and misuse of these traditions. For more background on the sacred shamanic traditions of Peru we ask that you watch a lecture given by Roman Hanis titled "Knowledge of the Amazon" at the link listed below. In addition, we encourage all participants to view the documentary "The Sacred Science" which was filmed at the Paititi Institute and more accurately represents the way we work with these traditions.

- The Psychology of Kundalini Yoga, by C. G. Jung
- Stories of the Tibetan Masters (Tilopa, Naropa, Marpa, Milarepa, Gampopa, Karmapa)
- The Cosmic Serpent, by Jeremy Narby

Food & Dietas

As a community we eat a whole foods-based natural diet. All meals are vegan with the addition of local animal protein at times for those in need. Below is a common sample menu:

Breakfast: oatmeal or amaranth w/ superfood toppings & seasonal local fruit

Lunch: tamales, fresh raw salad and veggie stir fry

Dinner: grains, fresh raw salad and soup

If you require a special diet be sure to communicate and discuss your restrictions with us clearly prior to your arrival so we can plan in advance what will be possible to accommodate.

In preparation for ceremonies there is a specific diet that must be maintained 3 days prior to the ceremony. During the ceremony times we will facilitate this diet and will only be serving the appropriate foods.

In addition to ceremonies, some participants may work with individual medicinal plant dietas depending on your specific situation. Each plant has specific diet requirements.

Detox

It is important to be prepared to potentially go through a strong detox process while on retreat. There are a number of factors which will contribute to this. Being in the pristine environment alone raises our vibration and speeds up our metabolism. In addition frequent plant diets and ceremonies along with a clean non-processed vegan diet will deepen the cleansing process.

It is not uncommon to feel weak and tired during this process of detox and you may even experience cold or flu symptoms, or other physical conditions from your past. In addition, since the physical body is not separate from the emotional and spiritual body, the physical detox can bring to the surface deep repressed emotions and tensions in order to be faced and resolved.

When going through a detox it is best to rest and spend time with yourself. We will be available to help guide participants through this process. There is no blessing without a purification first and in this way even the purification becomes a blessing.

Healing Physical Conditions

This particular Transformation Retreat is designed for those who are physically healthy and are seeking transformation and deepening on their spiritual path. During the retreat we will of course work with the physical body as it is fully interconnected to the emotional and spiritual bodies. This work will be aided through the practices outlined previously, the different medicinal plants available to us in that environment, as well as other energy healing modalities such as breathwork, meditation and Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM).

For those with more serious physical and/or emotional conditions we may require you to participate as a Medicine Retreat participant in a future retreat. If you are not sure if you qualify as a participant in this retreat please email us and we will be happy to discuss your personal situation in order to determine the appropriate steps for you. Read more about our Medicine Retreats HERE.

In order to join us as a Medicine Retreat participant the prerequisite is to first work with us through our distance healing program which includes a nutritional program, Jungian Transpersonal dreamwork and one-on-one counseling. During this process we will be able to take some initial steps in the healing process, establish a personal connection, and determine if and when a deeper healing immersion in Peru will be appropriate. Read more about our distance healing program HERE. The Distance Healing Program is also available for those who do not wish to visit us in Peru.

Travel Info

Please do NOT book any travel until your registration for this retreat is complete and you received confirmation from us that your application has been accepted and your deposit has been received.

We will be holding the upcoming Embody True Nature Retreat at our new mountain land which is about a 4 to 5-hour drive from Cusco, Peru, followed by a 2+ hour hike in. We will meet in the Sacred Valley (about 40 minutes from Cusco) on August 10th at 10am for orientation and Coca Initiation and it is important that all are present for this. Early on August 11th we will all travel from the Sacred Valley to the land together.

IMPORTANT INFO REGARDING BOOKING FLIGHTS

Please plan to arrive in Cusco by August 9th in order to meet up with the group on the 10th. As for departure, you should plan to fly home no earlier than midday on September 12th. For those of you wishing to do some personal travel in the mountains it is great to do this before the retreat in order to have some time to acclimate to the altitude before we meet. We do encourage participants to stay after the retreat and take some time to integrate and ground before leaving and we will have discounted prices and possible volunteer work study service opportunities available for that purpose.

If flying from the states it is worth searching the flight in separate legs. The cheapest flights to Peru are often found in LA, Dallas, Houston, Miami, Orlando or New York. It is often cheaper to get a flight to one of the locations separately and then getting your international flight. It is also an option to fly into Lima, Peru and buy a separate local flight from Lima to Cusco.

The local Peruvian Airlines which fly from Lima to Cusco are:

- Peruvian Airlines
- Star Peru
- LAN
- Avianca

TRAVELING FROM CUSCO TO THE SACRED VALLEY

The Sacred Valley is about 30-40 minutes drive from Cusco and you can either take a taxi directly from the airport or take a colectivo (shared taxi). We will share more specific details regarding the meeting location along with detailed direction a few weeks prior to the retreat.

COMING EARLY AND STAYING LATE

If you have the flexibility we recommend arriving a little early so that you can acclimate to the altitude and environment. One week is nice but even a few days can be very helpful. It is very useful to feel grounded and rested when we start the retreat. We have also found that it can be really helpful to have some personal time to integrate before flying home. Again even a few days can make a big difference.

Medications and Vaccinations

For your well being, all pharmaceuticals, supplements and health conditions MUST be reported to us. If you start any medications or supplements after you register it is important to let us know right away. Taking ANY pharmaceutical medication will affect your ability to partake in medicinal plant work. Many pharmaceuticals are contraindicated with the Amazonian and Andean plant medicines and must be avoided 3 days to 6 weeks prior depending on the drug and the duration of use. Every situation is unique and it is IMPORTANT that you contact us as soon as possible so that we can research your specific situation. We do NOT recommend that anyone quit medications without the guidance of their overseeing physician.

There are no required shots for travel in Peru at the time of writing this document. The Center for Disease Control and Prevention makes some recommendations regarding vaccinations at the following website. It is up to you and your health care provider to determine what are the best steps for you. All participants are responsible for their own health decisions and travel at their own risk. <http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/destinations/traveler/none/peru>

Some countries may require Yellow Fever vaccinations when traveling directly from Peru. Please do some research before you travel.

At this time we are not aware of any reported cases of Dengue, Malaria or Yellow Fever in the region where our mountain land is located.

Passport and Visas

A valid passport is required to enter and depart Peru.

In Peru a tourist visa is automatically granted for citizens of the United States for a stay up to 180 days (6 months) when entering the country. If you would like to get the full 180 day visa you have to request this when going through customs or else they often stamp it for 90 days.

Visit the Peruvian Consulate of Peru Website HERE for the most current visa information and details on visa requirement for citizens of other countries. Laws are always being updated and we recommend doing some research prior to your travel. Please note that most destinations, including Peru, require that you have adequate unused pages in your passport, allowing for necessary stamps upon arrival and departure. It is recommend that you have at least two free pages in the Visas section of your passport before any international travel. For more passport information and resources visit HERE.

Required Travel Insurance

We require all participants to have travel insurance with emergency evacuation coverage.

Accidents can happen anywhere and the closest (basic) health post to us is a 3+ hour hike up and down a mountain (likely much longer if injured). We hope that we will never use this but especially in these early stages we ask everyone to take appropriate precautions.

There are lots of good travel insurance options out there which are pretty inexpensive. Travel Guard is one good option we have found. You can sign up online and extend online so it is quite easy. World Nomads is another popular one. The important thing is that the insurance covers emergency evacuation for medical, or other situations. $15,000 USD of emergency evacuation insurance should be sufficient. This will cover worst case scenario things like a helicopter evacuation and medically equipped planes. Normal medical insurance (at least in the US) does not cover this. Also if someone does not have a regular medical insurance plan in their home country it is a good idea to get a travel plan that covers medical expenses. Most companies bundle it all together which can be nice because the travel insurance will cover out of pocket expenses your medical insurance will not cover.

Some trip insurance that you can buy when purchasing your plane ticket cover emergency evacuation, but not all do and they are probably more stringent. If you go this route you must buy the trip protection insurance for a round trip ticket. Generally any medical portion of the coverage is void after a short time (often around 2 weeks). Also with round trips we think many of these trip protection ticket add-ons only cover you for a max 30 days.

It is also nice to get a policy that has 24\7 live assistance and collect call access.

OF COURSE YOU MUST NOT TAKE OUR WORD FOR ANY OF THIS AND DO YOUR OWN RESEARCH. If anyone finds valuable info to share with the group please feel free to pass it on.

Once you have your insurance please send us digital copies of your policy so that we can keep them available and on file. We must receive this before the retreat starts.

What to Bring

The temperature at the center can be very warm during the day and chilly at night. This retreat will fall in the latter part of the dry season so it is likely to be dry but you never know. We recommend having some nice quick drying clothes. In general, lightweight long sleeves and long pants are best to protect against the intense sun as well as the small gnats that come out at times.

Please include the following items on your packing list (this is not a complete packing list but some important items that should be included). Please pack light and keep in mind that you will have to carry in your belongings in your personal pack. Good lightweight gear can get expensive so if you do not own these items you may want to ask friends what you can borrow.

- Passport
- Hiking Backpack: If you don't have a pack we recommend going to a store like REI where you can try them on packed with weight. A good camping store should have a sales person who can fit you properly. A pack that fits right can make your journey a LOT more pleasant!
- Sleeping bag and Sleeping Pad: Nights can get into the 40s at times.
- Personal Tent: This will be your home for the month so we recommend a tent that you can sit up in (rather than those tiny one person sleeping tents). Make sure it's waterproof :)
- A good pair of Hiking Boots (high-top is best in order to protect your toes going downhill). It is worth it to invest in a good pair and to break them in before you arrive!
- Head Lamp and batteries: Rechargeable batteries are best. We have a small solar system that can charge batteries. You may wish to have your own solar charger.
- Loose fitting long pants (at least one pair of quick dry pants that do not require a belt are good to have for days that we are hiking with your pack on).
- Loose fitting long sleeve shirts
- Comfortable outfit for Ceremonies, Yoga and QiGong sessions
- Flip-flops or slip-on shoes are nice to have for ceremonies
- Journal and/or notebook and pens/pencils
- Water bottle
- Personal first-aid kit
- Towel or travel towel
- Bathing Suit
- Biodegradable soap and Shampoo
- Rain coat/pants or poncho
- Sun hat: Sun can be very intense in the mountains so get hat that covers the ears (not baseball hat). In Pisac and Cusco you can find hats if you wish to buy one when you arrive.
- Sweater and/or Poncho: You can also find lots of nice sweaters and ponchos in Pisac.
- Crisp new bills: It is difficult to change money that is ripped, folded and worn looking.
- Yoga mat: We have some available however we do not have enough for everyone.
- Smaller day bag or waist pack (it is good to pack this away in your pack when hiking in so you only have one bag to carry and your hands free).
- Rain cover for your backpack.
- Water proof stuff sacks (the kind that you roll down and clip). Great for packing things you don't want to get wet like your sleeping bag, cloths and electronics.
- Light weight scarf to protect yourself from gnats at the bottom of the land.

About the Accommodations

The new Paititi Institute land is located on a magical 4000 acres in the Mapacho Valley of the Peruvian Andes bordering the Manu National Reserve. This land, located in the Machu Picchu region, has been a cradle of Incan and pre-Incan civilizations for thousands of years and is known in the area as the historical location of the Incan trail (Capagñan) into Paititi (the enlightened realm). You can read an article about the new land HERE >>

As mentioned earlier, we have recently moved our activities to this land and there will not be very much infrastructure in place. These conditions can serve as a powerful catalyst for deepening our process.

Most of the luxuries found in the modern world you will not find here. The reality is that through fulfilling our needs and wants, we have caused great destruction and imbalance to the environment and our communities. Instead at our center we choose to live in a basic way, learning to cultivate deep peace and joy in living within our means which empowers us to move from being culturally conditioned and dependent consumers to becoming productive conscious citizens of the earth.

Through this simplicity and immersion in a pristine environment you will become more in tune with nature inside and out. This environment can stimulate inner growth and this means you may feel ups and downs more strongly and at times it can be uncomfortable. We often use the distractions of the modern world to avoid looking at ourselves. This is not a place to escape but rather a place to face ourselves and ground in truth. For some used to modern luxury, it can take a little time to adjust.

Personal Space: In the future we will be building personal huts for participants however these will not be complete before this retreat. Until then all participants should bring their own tent that can handle rain. As mentioned in the packing list, we recommend that you bring a tent that is large enough for you to sit up in for more comfort. The weather in this high mountain sub-tropical forest region is really much more benevolent than in our previous center at the lower Amazon basin. Here there are less bugs than the old center and much less humidity and heat so tents are actually quite comfortable to be in.

Communal Space: We have a simple open community space with earthbag walls and poured earth floor where we will gather often. In addition we have a number of large dome like tents available for participants to utilize for personal time.

Water: There is delicious mountain spring water for drinking which we filter for extra protection. Showers are set up in a small creek which is cold and quite awakening :)

Electricity: We have a small solar system with a charge station. Devices with USB charging work best.

Laundry: There will be bins available for you to wash your own laundry by hand. One advantage of packing light is that you will have less to wash :) Please bring your own biodegradable soap. Pure castile soap work well.

Bathrooms: We use composting toilets as part of our Permaculture program.

Phone and Internet

It is important to set yourself up in a way where you will not need to use the phone and especially the internet while you are on retreat. It is very beneficial to stay on site for the full retreat and abstain from interaction with the outside world as much as possible. Trips into the city will mean missing a minimum of 3 days of the retreat and breaking the continuity of the process for yourself and the others in our group.

Phone Service: We have a special phone that can be used for local calls and can receive calls from your loved ones if necessary. You are welcome to share the following phone number with your close family and friends. Paititi institute: +51-974-898-634

The satellite phone on site can also receive text messages from those who wish to reach you with an important message if cell service goes down for any reason. Feel free to share the following direction for sending a text message to this phone and let them know that sometimes there is a delay of up to 24 hours for messages to come through to us. Please let them know that messages should only be sent to the satellite phone if they are not able to get through via the cell number first.

Sending a Text Message:

- Go to this website:
<http://connect.inmarsat.com/Services/Land/IsatPhone/SMS/sms.html>
- Enter this phone # (behind the prefix 87077) 6407631
- Enter your message. There is a 160 character max length.
- Press “send”

Internet: We do intend to install a satellite internet at the land however it is most likely not going to be up and running by the time of this retreat. There will be no internet access available during the retreat and there is no internet available in the local villages.

If you to determine that you need to leave the site before the retreat is over for some reason please note that we cannot guarantee that an Institute vehicle will be able to drive you. There is a bus service 2 days a week from a nearby village (Friday and Tuesday).

In the case of a medical emergency helicopter transportation may be required. The cost of emergency transport will be covered by the participant or their insurance.

Trash

Being off the grid means we do not have services such as trash pickup. As a community we consider this a blessing because it forces us to become accountable for the waste that we consume and produce. We ask that as a guest of our community you help us to keep our waste to a bare minimum.

Together we practice a Leave No Trace Ethic. It is very simple: leave the place you visit the same or better than you found it; leave no trace of your having been there, so that others – both human and animal – can enjoy the land. The following are some guidelines that we ask you to follow:

1) Leave all packaging at home.

If you are bringing new products of any sort please take them out of the package before you pack your bag. Beyond that, consider the amount of packaging when making your purchases.

2) Carry out the waste you produce.

If you do bring in plastic or other waste please do not leave it with us when you leave. (For example, if your flashlight breaks and you decide to throw it out, please do not throw it out in our trash.) We also welcome everyone to help carry out additional waste that we find.

3) Please do not bring packaged food.

If you do decide to buy packaged food please dispose of the wrappers in the city before coming to our center or carry them out with you.

4) Use a reusable water bottle.

If possible do not buy bottled water in the city. Instead you can bring a reusable bottle and fill it up with our spring water. If you bring any plastic bottles with you please carry them out.

5) Bring a cloth shopping bag to use instead of plastic bags.

6) Ladies, please bring 100% biodegradable feminine products.

We ask that you bring products that can be composted such as 100% cotton tampons and pads. Health food stores should have these. Even better, you can also look for reusable cloth pads which can be washed and reused and/or a Diva Cup.

7) Please take used batteries home with you to recycle.

Please do not throw them in the trash (ours or yours) as they are very corrosive and toxic. It is important to recycle them and most first world countries have battery recycling as part of their recycle programs. We recommend solar battery chargers and rechargeable batteries.

Community Consciousness

Paititi is a labor of love and grows through the contribution of its residents and volunteers. Here, our work is our prayer and as a community we practice presence, compassion, selfless service and hard work for the benefit of all beings. We work together to cultivate the highest view – a perspective from which we strive to see the greatest benefit for everyone, in all situations, under all circumstances – wishing that all beings may be free from suffering.

During the retreat a powerful sangha (spiritual community) is formed. The following are some helpful guidelines we have learned through our experience which help to create a harmonious space of transformation.

- Clean up after yourself.
- If you see a problem, be part of the solution.
- Consider others as much as you consider yourself... Even better, consider others more.
- Look at yourself first. If something is not working, take 100% responsibility and look at how you contributed to the situation first before pointing fingers at others or blaming personal disturbance on outside circumstances.
- Own your experience. Make 'I' statements and share your own feelings and observations and abstain from projections and blaming.
- Practice transparency. If something triggers you, bothers you, is not clear or does not make sense practice confronting it from a grounded place unclouded by disturbed emotions. Often the stories we create about what we experience are interpretations based on our personal filters. Take some time to see if the situation brings up any personal disturbing feelings and emotions and once you release the identification with them bring it up with the people involved directly in a calm and balanced way.
- Don't gossip, go to the source. If challenges and confrontations do arise in the space it is important to handle them responsibly and go directly to the source of the challenge rather than pulling others into it. Venting to others does not solve anything and instead only creates a larger drama.
- Practice the art of listening and beginner's mind. True listening is listening without filters and interpretations. Practice listening to everything with fresh ears as if you are hearing everything for the first time. True listening requires a receptive and attentive mind without preparing a response ahead of time.
- It is up to you how much you want to gain from being here.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions or would like to clarify any information found here.

Thank you for your inspiration to face yourself and heal for the benefit of all beings.
